

An Outline

Collaboration Agreement of SDA Bocconi School of Management with University of Benghazi in relation to Master programmes

Based on the agreement signed between the two institutions on the 27th of April 2008, University of Benghazi and Bocconi University have agreed to implement a post graduate programme which contains the following projects:

- 1. Master programme in finance and Banking "already running".
- 2. Master Programme in health Care management "just started".
- 3. Master Programme in Tourism "next year will start".

This programme being carried out and executed on the premises provided by the University of Benghazi.

This programme lasts for 3 to 4 academic years and will be extended with a future mutual agreement. More specifically, this programme will be developed over each academic year.

For example: in the first academic year (Dec 2008 – Sep 2009) was already devoted to special ad hoc training and development of up to 4 selected University of Benghazi faculty members per Master programme with:

- 3 months full time stay at SDA Bocconi in Milano
- Plus 6 months of part time distance assistance and supervision. Specifically fixed hours were devoted weekly plus other hours that organized.

Such training, development, distance and supervision are covered, as appropriate, various relevant aspects for the successful development of related University of Benghazi Master programme including: supplementary

- . programmes and courses structure and design;
- . Teaching material and methodologies selection;
- . Faculty selection
- . Participants evolution, examination, degree-certificate granting;
- . programme marketing and sale;
- . General programme management and procedures;
- . Operational logistic, information and communication technology equipment needs, ect.

During their stay at SDA Bocconi, University of Benghazi experts are allowed to follow and attend, with the particular status of "visiting", relevant modules courses of open market SDA Bocconi Master programmes linked to their specific areas of interest and expertise.

Organization and execution of the programme:

- (1) The programme is organized and outlined by both parties according to similar programmes executed at Bocconi University.
- (2) duration of the programme is divided into two years divided into four semesters. The start and end of each semester, number of courses to be taught and total of instruction in each course is outlined
- (3) Material being taught in each course, text books used for course and other details is fully outlined according to course taught and standards applied at Bocconi for similar programs.
- (4) Instructions, text book, and material assigned for course is in English language and obtain the required score.
- (5) Students in the programme would be sent over Bocconi for two semesters to study part of programme (field work) at Bocconi.
- (6) Faculty members of Both Universities teach the courses for University of Benghazi students in a way that Bocconi sends its members of staff to teach short courses whereas the University of Benghazi members teach the core courses. Additional teaching requirements is subject to further mutual agreement.

According to this agreement and within this frame work SDA Bocconi makes available to University of Benghazi its copyright exclusively in relation to teaching and support materials provided for the use within the related programmes.
